We were grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Eva Worthington, wife of our friend John J. Worthington, who died in Kansas City Dec. 1st. We know her well and can say that she was a good woman, a true friend, and a devoted mother. She was a member of the Baptist church and was a consistent member until death. She was born and raised up in this community, married and spent the greater portion of her life here. From here she and her husband with their family moved to Lexington, thence lately to Kansas City where she died. The sympathy of this their old home goes out to them in their sad bereavement and may the Lord direct their hearts into the love of God and into the patient waiting for Christ.

HOUSEHOLD WISDOM

IDEAS FOR THE KITCHEN AND THE SICK ROOM.

Proper Way to Roast a Ham—Simple Method of Preparing Baked Potatoes—Making Fire Without Disturbing Invalid.

When making a meat pie, turn a cup upside down in the bottom of the dish; when going to serve take cup out and you will have plenty of gravy to serve.

TO ROAST A HAM.—Take a new ham that has been salted for some weeks. If smoked, parboil it before roasting. While it is before the fire, baste it with white wine and sugar. When half done, remove skin, stick it full of cloves and let it roast as long again, basting it with fresh wine and sugar until thoroughly cooked.

NEVER STIR INGREDIENTS.—When making biscuits or bread with baking powder or soda and cream tartar, the oven should be prepared first, the dough handled quickly and put into oven as soon as it becomes the proper lightness. If oven is too slow, the article baked will be heavy and hard. Never stir ingredients into batter, but beat them in.

THE KITCHEN TABLE.—To prevent the corner of your table working through your table cloth, take four squares of strong canvas, glue a piece on wrong side, just where the corners of the table come in contact with the tablecloth. This also prevents the table cloth from cracking and looking shabby as you often see them.

SIMPLE MODE OF BAKING.—Baked potatoes are said to be much more wholesome than boiled, says a writer. As a very hot oven is required to bake them, I thought of a much easier way. I wash the potatoes, and while they are wet I put them in an iron frying pan and cover with a close fitting cover and set them on the top of the range to bake. With a slow fire, turning them once or more as needed. I have followed this plan for years, and like it much better than the usual way. Try it.

FIRES IN SICK ROOM.—In a sick room, where the slightest noise will disturb the patient, I have found the best method of making up the fire, and especially at night, is to take away all fire irons, replacing them with an old walking stick; to clear the ashes from the grate, then place on the fire a parcel of coal tied up in a newspaper or stout paper bag, which as the paper burns will gently fall into place without noise. I have never known this to disturb even the most restless sufferer.

Sandwiches.—Dainty sandwiches are made by passing ham through the chopper and adding a suggestion of lemon peel.

By dressing cold halibut with a little mayonnaise and capers.

By using chopped Spanish onions, with or without the lettuce.

By mixing finely-chopped walnuts with cream cheese, and adding a little heavy cream and a pinch of salt.

By preparing a filling of stone olives and green and red (sweet) peppers, both chopped fine.

By covering the bread with thin slices of cucumber over which chopped chives, or grated American cheese, should then be sprinkled.

By passing cold pork and celery through the chopper, and seasoning with salt and Worcestershire slightly diluted with water.

Home-Made Fried Cakes.—Stir to a cream two cups sugar and four tablespoonfuls softened butter or drippings. Add one cup each milk and water, two well-beaten eggs, four teaspoonfuls baking powder sifted in four cups flour, a teaspoonful salt and cinnamon or nutmeg to taste. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough, cut in rings or twists and drop into a kettle of boiling fat. When the cakes rise and brown on one side turn on the other without piercing the cruller. As to butcher's paper on both sides lift out on to butcher's paper to drain. When nearly cool these may be rolled in powdered sugar if so desired.

Delicious Chocolate Pudding.—A chocolate pudding which has the merit of being equally good at the second steaming is made as follows: One-half cup of sugar, one-half cup of milk, one cup of flour, one egg, one large spoonful of butter, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one-half square of chocolate, melted. Mix well, and steam in a bowl one hour. For the sauce: Two eggs and one cup of sugar. Beat together and flavor with vanilla. —Harper's Bazar.

Sour Milk Cake Without Eggs.—Cream together a cupful of sugar and half-cupful of butter; add a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in a cupful of sour milk, a teaspoonful of cinnamon, a half-teaspoonful each of cloves and nutmeg, a cupful of chopped raisins or dates and two cupfuls of flour. Mix well and bake in a moderate oven.

To Clean a Pen.—A raw potato makes the best sort of pen cleaner, though one that must be changed every little while, for obvious reasons. In some mysterious way it cleans the most scratchy, soiled pen and makes it as near like new as the wearing down of the nib allows—far more than one would dream possible.

Shade Much in Favor.—A peculiar warm shade of red-brown cloth is especially in favor with dark brown furs and a brown hat trimmed with brown feathers.

MAKE MILLIONS IN RUGS.—Americans Control Many of the Big Factories in India.

In 1905-6 there were manufactured in India and exported carpets and rugs to the value of $1,900,000, of which $1,500,000 in value went to the United Kingdom and $400,000 in value to the United States. Most of the finest rugs that were shipped to the United States of Indian manufacture were made in factories controlled by American capital. One firm alone controls ten factories, one each in Kashmir, Hyderabad and Sikkim, the others being scattered over two-thirds of India. This firm employs 15,000 people, half of whom are females engaged in spinning and the other half on the hand looms.

Practically all of the rugs made by this firm are manufactured on designs that were worked out in the United States, and are intended to meet the American demand. The colors used are indigenous, purely vegetable, and are prepared upon formulas that have been handed down for centuries from father to son. This firm would be glad to do their manufacturing in the United States, but it has been found to be impossible to induce any considerable number of expert rugmakers to emigrate to the United States, even if there were no legal difficulties in the way, and it is impossible to induce Americans to engage in making rugs by hand, as they are made in India, so that it should be a matter of genuine pride to Americans to know that their countrymen are leading in the enterprise of rugmaking in India and are the first to enter the domain of Thibet to engage in manufacturing.

THOUGHT HE WAS CALLED.—Minister's Thunder Had Salutary Effect on Small Boy.

Elder Hitchcock, the presiding elder of the Manchester (Mass.) district of the M. E. church, was formerly pastor of Grace church in Haverhill. He is noted for his intensely dramatic style of preaching, which had a salutary effect on one small boy who was attending a morning service with his maiden aunt.

The boy's name was John, and he was full of the restless spirit of youth as the average boy, manifestations of which had kept his aunt on tenterhooks during the service in spite of all she could do to suppress his squirms and wriggles.

Mr. Hitchcock was preaching on the Apostle John, and while walking up and down the platform delivering his thunderous utterances, the small boy John was wriggling and whispering. Suddenly in the course of his sermon the preacher came to where the Master calls to His future apostle, and he turned. Pointing his arm down the audience, he thundered: "Stop, John."

"With astonished eyes the small boy huddled back in the seat and never stirred again during the service.

FIRST ARMORED SHIPS.

The first account we have of an armored ship is in 1530. It was one of the fleet of the Knights of St. John, entirely sheathed with lead, and it is said to have successfully resisted all the shot of that day. At the siege of Gibraltar, in 1782, the French and Spaniards employed light iron bomb-proofing over their decks. The first practical use of wrought-iron plates as a defense for the sides of vessels was by the French in the Crimean war, in 1853, to be used against the Russian forts in the Baltic.

A POLICEMAN'S QUESTION.

"This seat, ma'am, is reserved for women and children."
"Well, I'm a woman."
"Yes, but where are your children?"

THE SHARE THAT PASSED.

Young Willie was fond of fishing, and did not much care whether he was trespassing or not so long as he could indulge in his favorite pastime.

He was busy with his rod and line one day when a gamekeeper came along and eyed him with none too much affection.

"You must clear out of this!" he said, with a withering air of authority, "this part of the river belongs to the earl of Arlingdale."

"Oh, does it? I didn't know that," declared Willie, and he submissively laid aside his rod and line and began to read.

The keeper went away, but on returning later found Willie busy fishing again.

"Didn't I tell you these waters belonged to the earl of Arlingdale?" he roared.

"Oh, yes," said Willie, "you told me that an hour ago, but surely the whole blessed river don't belong to him. His share went by long ago."

As Good as She Sent.

Years ago the once famous Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams, who will be remembered by theatergoers of the last century, were playing an engagement at the Boston Museum. The couple were always great favorites in Boston, but Mrs. Williams was somewhat noted for her sharp tongue both on and off the stage.

On the night in question she had been disturbed by the crying of a baby in the gallery. Stepping to the footlights she stopped in the middle of her lines and looking toward the offending child cried:

SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN

Is Rivalled by Human Hair

Dandruff is Eradicated.

Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and human hair is equally as soft and when healthy; and the radical cause for hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that destroys the vitality of the hair at its root. No, as Herpicide is the only preparation fatal to the dandruff germ. Without his dandruff there is no falling hair, but the urant growth of glossy, soft hair is the result. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. In and of women owe their beautiful hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Send 10c. in stamps to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
